

Session 5

Session 5 - After firing at the figure, I get shanked a few times, going down. The same happens to Gon. Velma manages to get us both up and Blorg gets the final hits on the figure, taking him out. We search the figure, finding a letter and a bag of silver. Velma holds the letter and has a vision of a commander writing the letter to their daughter. We decide to head back to sleep. The next day, we encounter a dark cloud that chases after us and kills one of the couriers. Afterwards, on the road leading to Marshreach, we find three knights from the Kingdom of Thaisha, Quintell, Berton, and Vallis. They are here to seek glory, as their kingdom is at an impasse with the Dracon Empire, whom Lacreovil may be part of. I'm not so easily impressed by them, but we travel with them the remaining way to Marshreach. They convince Gon of glory where they come from, and so we make plans to travel with them to their kingdom.
