

Session 9

Session 9 - The knight reveals himself as Daelen and puts a zone of truth around us to get our intentions. We answer his questions truthfully, so he lets us proceed. By nightfall, we make it to the city of Thaisha, where we are greeted by guards and escorted to a place to stay for the night. In the morning, we meet Elerra, an elf who was assigned to escort us around the city. First, she takes us to a bathhouse, where we all wash up. Then Alina and I grab supplies seemingly for free. We then meet up with a Dracan Empire defector, who asks us questions about Lacrevril, Alina gives him her blood to test, and will get the results in a week. Elerra then takes us to a map room, where she and Alina exchange map information. I use my materials to create a few potions and perfumes, while asking Elerra for an audience with the king,
